

The New Zealand and Australian EU Centres are inviting now paper submissions for the international conference entitled:

Europe: New Leadership, New Directions?

23 + 24 November 2015 in Auckland, New Zealand

The EU has entered 2015 under new institutional leadership with the appointments of President Tusk, President Juncker and High Representative Mogherini. These changes have coincided with internal and external challenges that present the EU with new choices and policy directions including:

- Greece and the Euro
- The UK referendum
- Migration and refugees
- Post-MDG Development policy

This multidisciplinary conference calls for papers that critically examine the nature of the European integration process and the EU's broad global role. Deadline for online abstract submission is Sunday, 06 September 2015. We are pleased to announce that former Member of the European Parliament, Baroness Nicholson has been invited as keynote speaker for this conference.
